1.1. Disclaimer

The Professional Doctoral Student Handbook (“Student Handbook”) serves only as a guide and in no way functions as a contract. The Professional Doctoral student acknowledges that the requirements for the program and the evaluations of the student’s work lie solely with The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and its personnel. Moreover, the Student Handbook is subject to periodic revision. A current copy of the Student Handbook is available at http://www.sbts.edu/doctoral/dmin/pds-student-resources/.

1.2. Accreditation

1.3. Overview of D.Min. and D.Ed.Min. Programs

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) and Doctor of Educational Ministry (D.Ed.Min.) programs are advanced professional doctoral degrees in ministry. The purpose of the program is to equip persons who are committed to a Christian vocation for a high level of excellence in the practice of ministry.

The distinctive features of the D.Min. and D.Ed.Min. programs include:

- Participation in interdisciplinary academic seminars
- Practical application of classroom learning to the student’s ministry setting
- A written research project or thesis that is related to the student’s ministry setting
- An oral defense of the written project or thesis
2.  ADMISSION TO THE D.MIN./D.ED.MIN. PROGRAMS

Applicants to the D.Min./D.Ed.Min. programs will be evaluated in light of their academic record, performance on entrance examinations, personal aptitude, and motivation for doctoral study.

2.1. Admission Prerequisites

3.3. Description of Seminars

Introduction to Doctoral Research and Writing (80610) is an online orientation taken prior to the first foundational seminar. This course provides an overview of doctoral level writing skills, Southern Seminary style requirements, and library resources and research methods.

The Foundational Seminars vary by concentration and may not be taken concurrently. The seminars meet for four days in January and July. Each seminar requires a significant amount of preparation, including reading (an average of 2,500 pages) and written assignments.

Project Methodology (80600) is a five day course that allows students to work with a coach to develop their proposal for approval.

Contextualized Writing Seminars (80710) allow students to work toward the completion of their project in a timely manner. This allows students to write and receive approval for chapters 1-3 by the time the four seminars are completed.

The two educational seminars meet for four days and are usually taken during the last two semesters. (80950: Applied Empirical Research, 80960: Foundations of Teaching)
4. PROGRAM CONCENTRATIONS

Applicants must declare their intended concentration at the time of application. Students who desire to change their concentration must contact the Office of Professional Doctoral Studies.

4.1. The School of Theology offers the following Doctor of Ministry concentrations:

Applied Theology is designed to equip pastors and church leaders to evaluate cutting edge issues in Christian theology and culture. The program prepares ministers to apply a comprehensive vision of the gospel to practical local church matters from preaching to discipleship to counseling to cultural engagement.

Biblical Spirituality is designed to equip pastors and other ministry leaders in the theology and practice of biblical spirituality. The program of study emphasizes biblical spirituality in both its personal and interpersonal expressions, and examines this from both an historical and contemporary perspective.

Biblical Theology is designed to equip pastors and ministry leaders to understand the Bible in accordance with the intentions of its Spirit-inspired human authors. This program of study aims to strengthen the student’s skill in the biblical languages as well as aid in putting the whole Bible together as one cohesive story.

Christian Theology and Practice is specifically designed to provide students with a high level of engagement with systematic theology while maintaining a focus on local church ministry. Seminars will include topics on the history of Christian doctrine, Christology and contemporary discussions on atonement, Trinitarian theology, teaching doctrine in various ministry contexts, and the role of the Spirit in the local church. The concentration in Christian Theology and Practice will further equip pastors and leaders to rightly handle God’s word in various ministry contexts, understand the importance of theological reflection in pastoral ministry, and encourage leaders in the local church to pay close attention to their doctrine and practice.

Expository Preaching is designed to equip pastors and other church leaders in the skills of sermon preparation and public exposition of Scripture. This program of study will meet the needs of those persons who want to engage in the classical disciplines of biblical interpretation, theological reflection, and sermon preparation.

New Testament Exposition is specifically designed to provide students with a high level of engagement with the New Testament while maintaining a focus on local church ministry. Seminars will include topics Greek grammar and linguistics, theology and history of the Gospels, New Testament ethics, contemporary debates in Pauline theology, and leadership and church practice in the New Testament. The concentration in New Testament Exposition will further equip pastors and leaders to rightly handle God’s word in various ministry contexts, and encourage leaders in the local church with the truth of God’s word as it relates to the exegesis and theology of the New Testament.

4.2. The Billy Graham School of Missions, Evangelism and Ministry offers the following Doctor of Ministry Concentrations:

Applied Apologetics is vital for the task of relating the truth of Scripture to an ever-changing culture and engaging the world with the veracity of God’s word. The concentration in Applied Apologetics will further equip pastors and leaders to rightly handle God’s word, train men and women to engage the culture, and lead in the local church with the truth of God’s word as it relates to contemporary issues in ethics, scientific and historical debate, and issues of religion and faith in the public square.

Biblical Counseling is designed to equip ministry professionals for leadership in ministering and counseling from a biblical foundation. Specifically, the degree is designed for congregational ministers and others who serve in counseling roles.

Black Church Leadership is designed primarily to equip ministers who serve African-Americans and other racial minorities. The program of study emphasizes meeting needs through urban community ministries and focuses upon the unique concerns relative to ministering to people of color.

Church Revitalization is designed to equip pastors and other church leaders with the training needed to revitalize established churches. The program is founded upon the belief that the revitalization of a local church happens through people who have a biblical vision of a healthy church.
Christian Ministry is specifically designed to provide students with an opportunity to custom tailor a doctoral education towards sharpening specific ministry skills in key areas. The concentration in Christian Ministry will further equip pastors and leaders to engage in various ministry contexts, and encourage leaders in the local church to gain a more firm grasp on the tools of ministry necessary for the 21st century.

Christian Worship is designed to train worship leaders to think biblically and theologically, as well as plan worship with a biblical, theological and historical perspective. Through this program, students will gain an increased capacity to lead in and through their worship ministry.

Family Ministry is designed to equip leaders to develop a biblically and theologically grounded family ministry in the local church. Students will be equipped to think theologically about Christian formation and discipleship in family perspective.

Global Missions is designed to equip ministers with a high level of excellence in global missions and missions leadership. This program was created with the needs of North American and international missionaries, associational directors of missions, and stat convention missions workers in mind.

Leadership is designed to help local church ministers to develop excellence in leadership with their context.

Current courses required for each Doctor of Ministry or Doctor of Educational Ministry concentration are listed in the current Southern Seminary catalog at http://www.sbts.edu/admissions/catalogs-and-forms/. Students are expected to be familiar with the requirements for their particular degree program.

6. THE MINISTRY RESEARCH PROJECT

6.1. Introduction

The D.Min. and D.Ed.Min. program requires the development and implementation of a ministry research project. This element of the program is intended to help the student apply skills acquired in a way that grounds ministry in sound biblical-theological principles. As the culmination of the Professional Doctoral program of study, the project should demonstrate the student’s ability to relate professional knowledge—documented in research—to a particular situation, problem, challenge, or need in the student’s area of ministry. It should demonstrate the student’s writing ability to communicate clearly and effectively. The ministry research project should ultimately be both a means of ministry and an experience of growth and development for the student.

The guidelines and processes for the Ministry Research Project are described in detail in the Professional Doctoral Studies Writing Handbook, available online on the PDS Student Resources webpage (http://www.sbts.edu/doctoral/dmin/pds-student-resources/).

6.2. Research Thesis Option

The research thesis is an option for Professional Doctoral Studies students with exceptional writing and research skills. Students must apply for permission to present a research thesis in place of the Ministry Research Project by submitting a PDS Research Thesis Request by the end of their first semester in the program.

The PDS Research Thesis Request includes:

1) Completed PDS Research Thesis Request Form (see appendix 1 [http://www.sbts.edu/doctoral/dmin/pds-student-resources/writing-resources/]).

2) A 10-15 page sample research paper including footnotes and a bibliography. This should be an exemplary paper that displays evidence of the following: (1) a clear thesis statement supported throughout the paper; (2) exceptional writing; and (3) superb research skills.

3) A 1 page abstract which includes the potential thesis title, thesis statement, and the general direction of the work.

The Office of Professional Doctoral Studies and an SBTS faculty member from the student’s area of study will review the submitted thesis request. Following their review, the Professional Doctoral Studies Office will inform the student whether the thesis request has been approved or denied.
Approval of the Thesis Request permits the student to write and submit a research thesis proposal in coordination with participation in the appropriate Project/Thesis Methodology course (80600).

The guidelines for the Research Thesis are described in the Professional Doctoral Studies Writing Handbook, available online on the PDS Student Resources and Writing Resources webpages (http://www.sbts.edu/doctoral/dmin/pds-student-resources/).

7. GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

The completion of the Professional Doctoral Degree requires the successful defense of the written project through an oral examination. Details regarding eligibility to submit a completed project for an oral defense are contained in the Ministry Research Project Writing Handbook.

Students planning on graduating must complete a graduation application on my.sbts.edu while registering for their last semester. Students should follow guidelines from Academic Records and other seminary offices related to graduation.

7.2. Defense Draft

Fully approved defense drafts of the research project are due in the Professional Doctoral Studies office by the stated deadline. The student’s faculty supervisor must have reviewed every chapter in sequence and granted permission to continue with the oral examination prior to submission of the drafts.

7.3. Oral Hearing

Oral exams must be completed, and any resubmissions required by the Style Reader or the Faculty Supervisor must be submitted by the stated deadline. The date of the oral exam is chosen by the defense committee members in conjunction with the student.

7.4. UMI Submission

A PDF version of the complete project must be uploaded to UMI. Details about electronic submission, creating PDFs, pricing, and other information are available on the library website: http://library.sbts.edu/index.php/etds.
8. ACADEMIC POLICIES

8.1. Registration

Students accepted into the Doctor of Ministry program must attend their first seminar no later than one year after the semester of acceptance into the program. All students must register for seminars and Contextualized Writing Seminar or the Project Writing course every semester. Any student who fails to register each semester will be subject to the charge of a late registration fee in the amount of $250. Additionally, failure by the student to register for more than two semesters may result in the formal withdraw from the institution.

8.2. Length of Time Allowed

Students in the program are expected to pursue their degree concurrently with involvement in ministry. Professional Doctoral Studies students should allow three years (six semesters) of study to complete their program. Under no circumstances will a student be allowed to extend the time of completion beyond six years.

Students who take longer than three years (six semesters), will be assessed a continuation fee for each semester beyond the allotted time in the program. If a student officially takes time off from the program as outlined in the Interrupted Status policy, that absence does not count against the three years allowed to complete the program, but does count against the total six year limit.

8.3. Minimum Grade Point Average

For each individual component of the program, a student must receive a minimum grade of “B-” (2.7 on a 4.0 scale). If a student receives a grade that is lower than a “B-” on any individual component, that component must be repeated. Furthermore, that student is placed on probation. If a student receives two successive grades that are lower than a “B-,” the student will be terminated from the program.

8.4. Attendance

Attendance is required at every session for the entire duration of these seminars. Absence from any portion of any foundational seminar will necessitate retaking that seminar. Class participation will affect the student’s final grade.
8.5. Assignments

The accelerated plan for foundational seminars and Contextualized Writing seminars mandates that all assignments be completed on time, including reading and book critiques that are to be done before the seminar and any papers that are to be done after the seminar. Faculty will work with students to maintain a submission schedule for all assignments. No grades of “Incomplete” will be given for doctoral work.

8.6. My.sbts.edu, Canvas, and Student Email Accounts

Upon acceptance into the Professional Doctoral Studies program, students will be assigned a students.sbts.edu email address and given a username and passwords for my.sbts.edu and Canvas. Students are expected to regularly check their students.sbts.edu email account, as it is the primary means of communication between the seminary and the student. Students who do not check their students.sbts.edu email account will still be accountable for all information distributed through that means.

8.7. Lodging and Meals Expenses

Program fees do not include costs for lodging and meals. On-campus housing may be available through the Legacy Center or through Student Housing. Please consult the enclosed Departments Quick Reference or the school website for additional information.

8.8. Interruption of Study

Unforeseen circumstances do at times require that students temporarily halt their studies. Any interruptions in study, however, are strongly discouraged for the following reasons. First, students who interrupt their studies must recognize that faculty supervision may be affected by prolonged interruptions. As a result, the student may not be readmitted into the program unless alternate and acceptable departmental supervision can be arranged. Second, programs with a cohort format are disrupted, and progress toward graduation is delayed.

Students who must take off time from the program of study must request Interrupted Status through the Professional Doctoral Office as outlined in the Interrupted Status Policy below.
9. INTERRUPTED STATUS POLICY

9.1. Purpose

The purpose of Interrupted Status (IS) is to allow a Professional Doctoral student in good standing to take a semester away from the normal program requirements and fees due to a particular need. Examples of justified IS needs are family matters, health crises, change in ministry status, or excessive financial strain.

9.2. Policy

A maximum of two IS semesters may be granted to each student during the course of his/her Professional Doctoral program. No more than one IS semester will be granted at a time, and a student must apply separately for a second IS semester. No IS requests will be granted retroactively.

The granting of an IS semester counts toward the total number of semesters a student is enrolled in the program and thus towards the six year (twelve semester) maximum length one is allowed to be in the Professional Doctoral program.

The semester of IS will not count against the semesters allowed prior to the Program Continuation Fee (see the current Catalog for fee rates), which is charged following the 6th semester of active enrollment in the Professional Doctoral program.

During the IS, the student is not required to pay tuition, though this time period does not reduce the total program tuition fee due by time of graduation. The student’s regular billing is put on hold and the student is charged a $100 IS fee for the semester.

During the IS, the student may not submit work to professors nor expect interaction with his/her professors.

If a student cannot resume studies and tuition payments after the granted IS period then the student must withdraw from the program. If a student in otherwise good standing must withdraw from the program, he or she will be welcome to re-apply for entrance into the program, once the original causes for the IS have been sufficiently resolved, within 2 years (4 semesters) of the initial withdrawal. The re-application procedure is shortened and does not require a new interview or ministry field essay, but it does require confirmation that the IS problems have been resolved.

No course work credits will be lost if a student in good standing re-enters the program immediately following an IS.
9.3. Procedure

International students residing in the United States on an F1 Visa must contact the Manager for International Services prior to applying for IS. Any time off from the program may affect F1 Visa status.

If the student is in the writing stage of the program, he or she should first consult with his/her supervisor for approval.

To request Interrupted Status, the student must submit the online form Request for Interrupted Status, available on the PDS Resources for Students webpage (http://www.sbts.edu/doctoral/dmin/pds-student-resources/) and email the PDS office once it has been submitted. Except in the case of emergencies, any published deadlines for IS applications will be strictly observed.

The Director of the PDS program will review the application and approve or deny. The student will be informed of the decision via email by the PDS office. Upon approval, the student should pay the $100 IS fee through the Accounting office.

9.4. IS Policy Exceptions: Leave of Absence for Military Active Duty

A student who is a member of the armed forces and whose studies are interrupted by a deployment or call to active duty must inform Academic Records and the PDS office of his or her call to active duty and the duration of the call. The student shall then be granted a leave of absence from his or her academic program.

A student who returns to his or her academic program within one year of his or her release from active duty shall be reinstated to the program with no loss of status. This leave of absence does not count toward the total number of semesters a student is allowed to be in the program.

A student who fails to return within one year of his or her release from active duty shall be administratively withdrawn and will be required to reapply in order to return to the program. All typical rules governing readmission will apply in this case.

Registration for Interruption of Study

80980B: Billy Graham School Students
10. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

All professional doctoral students pay tuition as a flat program fee established by the seminary administration. This fee covers tuition only and does not include miscellaneous fees acquired during the program such as late registration fees, continued enrollment, and graduation fees. These payments are interest free as long as they are paid on time.

The student is also responsible for all travel, lodging, and food expenses and any printing and binding costs associated with the Ministry Research Project. A student account summary can be accessed at any given time by visiting my.sbts.edu.

The entire program fee must be paid prior to graduation, even if the student completes the program in less than the allotted time.
